

Boris Labonov

A: Well, our orphanage wasn't bad. It was good. They gave us everything. We never went without pants. There was food and clothing. The linens were always clean. The personnel who worked there were good.